CHEMISTRY COLLOQUIA

The following Colloquia will take place on Mondays at 4.45 p.m. in Room 103

27th January
PHOTOCHEMISTRY OF AROMATIC COMPOUNDS
Dr. D. Bryce-Smith (University of Reading).

10th February
CATALYSIS OF PROTOPTIC REARRANGEMENTS IN AQUEOUS SYSTEMS
Dr. R.M. Topping

24th February
THE STABILISATION OF LOW VALENCE STATES OF TRANSITION METALS
Dr. J. Chatt, F.R.S. (Agricultural Research Council).

9th March
OPTICAL ROTATORY POWER
Dr. S.F. Mason (University of Exeter).

23rd March
THE KINETICS OF THALLIUM-THALLIC EXCHANGE REACTIONS
Dr. W.H. Ford-Smith

MATHEMATICS COLLOQUIA

The following Colloquia will take place on Fridays at 4.15 p.m.

7th February
BOOLEAN ALGEBRA AND ELEMENTARY PARTICLES
Dr. C. Kilmister (King's College, London)

20th March
(Title to be announced)
Mrs. M. Barritt (Royal Aircraft Establishment, Farnborough)

MATHEMATICS SEMINAR

Tuesday
21st January
ZETA FUNCTIONS (IN GEOMETRY) 5.45 p.m.
Dr. I. Macdonald (Magdalen College, Oxford)
PHYSICS COLLOQUIA

The following Colloquia will take place on Thursdays in Room 103

23rd January
ANISOTROPY AND FERROMAGNETIC RESONANCE IN SOME FERRITES
Dr. K. Hoselitz (Mullard Research Laboratories).
4.00 p.m.

6th February
ADVANCES IN CONTROLLED FUSION RESEARCH
Professor W.B. Thompson (Oxford University).
4.00 p.m.

20th February
NIMROD AND ITS INITIAL EXPERIMENTAL PROGRAMME
Dr. C.H. Stafford (Rutherford High Energy Laboratory).
4.00 p.m.

5th March
TYPE II OR IONDON SUPERCONDUCTORS
Dr. E.B. Goodman (Centre de Recherches sur les Très Basses Températures, Grenoble).
2.15 p.m.

THEORETICAL PHYSICS SEMINARS

The following Seminars will take place on Tuesdays in Room 103

26th January
THE WIDTH OF THE GIANT DIPOLE RESONANCE
Mr. L. Castillejo (Clarendon Laboratory, Oxford).
4.15 p.m.

11th February
THE GENERAL THEORY OF COVARIANT PARTICLE EQUATIONS
Dr. D.L. Pursey (University of Glasgow)
4.15 p.m.

25th February
THE HIGH ENERGY PROPERTIES OF PERTURBATION THEORY
Dr. J.C. Polkinghorne (Department of Applied Mathematics, Cambridge)
4.15 p.m.

10th March
(Title to be announced)
Mr. A.J. Leggett (Clarendon Laboratory, Oxford).
4.15 p.m.

SOCIETY NOTICES

Astronomical Society. Observatory construction on Wednesdays - see notice board for place of meeting. Observing will begin when the telescope is ready, and whenever the sky is clear. Anyone wishing to observe any particular subject should see Mr. F.R. Andrews so that a programme can be drawn up.

Dance Club. The Dance Club will meet at 8.00 p.m. in the Refectory (see Diary of Events). In the event of changes of time or place of the Club meeting notices will be posted on the notice board.

Film Society. The Film Society will meet on Friday evenings (from 7.30 p.m.) and on Saturday afternoons (from 2.30 p.m.) in Room 102. Performances on Friday evenings (7.30 p.m.) will be repeated on Saturdays (2.30 p.m.) except for silent films (marked with * in list) which will be shown once only and will have a piano accompaniment by Arthur Duly (resident pianist at the British Film Institute). The programme will be as follows:

7th February: L'ATALANTE (J. Vigo, France, 1934).
14th February: WAXWORKS* (P. Leni, Germany, 1924).
28th February: ITALIAN STRAW HAT* (R. Clair, France, 1927).

On Saturdays, starting on 18th January, from 5.00 p.m. there will be a Modern European Film Festival, programme below:

18th January: PICKPOCKET, WESTFRONT 1918
25th January: EROICA
1st February: M.
8th February: L'AVVENTURA
22nd February: CHRONIQUE D'UN ÉTÉ
29th February: THE UNDERDOG
7th March: MISS JULIE, UN CHEMIN ANADALOU

International Folk Dancing Society will meet every Tuesday evening at 7.30 p.m. on the Refectory Balcony (see Diary of Events).

Literary Society. Play readings run in conjunction with Mr. Lerner's and Mr. Nuttall's groups will take place on Monday evenings. Suggestions for plays to be read would be welcomed by Susan Rose or Bill Beker. For talks on 24th February and 9th March, see Diary of Events.

Music Society. There will be regular lunch-time record recitals throughout the term. Special meetings as follows (see also Diary of Events):

Thursday, 23rd January: Concert by the London Harpsichord Ensemble. The programme will include music by Telemann, Bach, Britten and Quants. Admission 3/- (2/- to members of Music Society).

Thursday, 26th February: Lecture by Professor Hugo Zebzer (see Diary of Events).

Thursday, 5th March: Lecture by Professor Willard Weller (see Diary of Events).

Meetings in January and February will be at 7.30 p.m. in the Debating Chamber. The meeting on Thursday, 5th March will be at 5.00 p.m.

Rhythm Society. Details of meetings on Wednesday, 29th January, Wednesday, 5th February and Wednesday, 26th February are as follows:

5th February: 7.30 p.m. Music Room. Rhythm and Blues Group. Guitar, banjo, harmonica: local group from Heart and Hand led by Johnny Winch.

26th February: 7.30 p.m. Music Room. Alex Campbell (Honorary President of the Rhythm Society, King of Folk Entertainment).

UNIVERSITY NEWS

THE UNIVERSITY PROPOSED PROGRAMME OF EXPANSION

The universities have been asked by the University Grants Committee to put forward new expansion plans in the light of the Robbins Report and the subsequent policy statement by the Government. In particular, they were asked to see how far they could meet the emergency need for more places in the years up to and including 1967/68. The University of Sussex feels that this challenge ought to be accepted to the greatest possible extent. Sites are already available and, as a new foundation, the University is already geared to a programme of expansion. The Senate has therefore proposed that the University should be expanded to over 3,000 students (graduate and undergraduate) by 1967/68. This build-up would be achieved by increasing the intake of students to 450 in both Arts and Sciences in 1965/66 and subsequent years.

Such a rapid expansion would need both a speeding up of existing building plans and additions to them. The University has submitted detailed proposals outlining the buildings needed. Amongst the new proposals are two additional Halls of Residence and a new Refectory block.

APPOINTMENT OF PRO-VICE-CHANCELLOR

The Senate has re-appointed Professor Briggs as Pro-Vice-Chancellor for a further period of two years, until 31st July, 1965.
LECTURES

Contemporary Britain

There will be a series of lectures on various aspects of contemporary Britain on Tuesdays at 12.30 p.m. in Physics 102:

14th January: Changing industry (Professor Elkins)
21st January: Population movements in new towns (Professor Elkins)
28th January: Class (Mr. Burke)
4th February: Class and the novel (Mr. Lerner)
11th February: The family (Mr. Fletcher)
18th February: Young and old (Mr. Warner)
25th February: The media (Mr. Hall)
3rd March: Power (Mr. Lively)
10th March: Religion (Dr. Jenkins)
17th March: Education (Professor Ford)

Contemporary America

There will be a series of eight lectures in connection with this course. Since they will be very general in scope, any member of the University interested in one or other of the topics is invited to attend. They will be held at 2.15 p.m. in the Physics Building Room 103.

20th January: The American Economy (Dr. Supple)
3rd February: The American Theatre (Mr. Jameson)
10th February: The American Presidency (Mr. Snowman)
17th February: Modern American Poetry (Mr. Mutter)
24th February: Science in America (Dr. Thomson)
2nd March: The New Conservatism (Mr. Lively)
9th March: The Negro and American Literature (Dr. Ross)

English Poetry

There will be a course of eight lectures on the English poets, a knowledge of whose works is required for the Preliminary Examination, on Thursdays at 2.15 p.m. in the large Physicis Lecture Theatre. Undergraduates who attend the lectures are recommended to bring a copy of the Works of the writer under discussion.

23rd January: Milton (Mr. Medcalf)
30th January: Milton (Mr. Medcalf)
6th February: Pope (Mr. Mutter)
13th February: Pope (Mr. Mutter)
20th February: Wordsworth (Mr. Josipovici)
27th February: Wordsworth (Mr. Josipovici)
5th March: Yeats (Mr. Inglis)
12th March: Yeats (Mr. Inglis)

The Novel

This course of lectures is addressed equally to undergraduates in the School of English Studies and in the School of European Studies. It will discuss some of the general principles of fiction criticism and will illustrate from both English and European writers. The lectures will be held in Room 102 of the Physics Building at 3.15 p.m.

21st January: Introduction to the study of the novel (Mr. Lerner)
28th January: Introduction to the study of the novel (Mr. Lerner)
4th February: Introduction to the study of the novel (Professor Cruickshank)
11th February: Jane Austen (Professor Deiches)
18th February: Madame Bovary (Professor Cruickshank)
25th February: Anna Karenina (Mr. Milner-Gulland)
3rd March: Portrait of a Lady (Dr. Ross)
10th March: Under Western Eyes (Mr. Hillman)
Criticism

A course of lectures on Criticism will be given by Mr. Inglis in Room 237 of the Physics Building at 2.15 p.m. on Tuesdays, beginning on Tuesday, 21st January. These lectures, addressed especially to second year undergraduates, will discuss some of the terms and assumptions of literary criticism, examine some important critical texts, and look (not always impartially) at some disputed issues in modern criticism.

STUDENTS ACADEMIC WORK

The Senate and the Academic Board have discussed the question of students' attendance at and performance in tutorials, seminars and School examinations. It has been agreed that each Dean will keep a list of those undergraduates in his School who are making unsatisfactory progress in their academic work. An undergraduate's name may be placed on the Dean's List by the Dean in consultation with the undergraduate's personal tutor, if there have been adverse reports on his tutorial or examination work. The progress of an undergraduate whose name is on a Dean's List will be reviewed by the Student's Progress Committee, which has the power to send him down. He may also be obliged to take a special School examination.

GOWNS

The Senate has decided that the present University regulation on the wearing of gowns at examinations, including School Examinations, should be enforced. A supply of gowns will be bought by the University to be held by the Head Porter. These will be available for hire by students who present themselves for examinations without gowns. If all gowns are out on an examination day, a student without a gown will be allowed to sit the examination on payment of a fine equivalent to the University's charge for the hiring of a gown.

ACCOMMODATION

The following Temporary Instruction was issued on 13th December, 1963 - and at its next meeting the Senate will be asked to approve the amending of the first two sentences of Regulation D.10 to read:

'Students must normally remain in a guest house for a full academic year. They may, however, move if they obtain the consent of the Lodgings Officer; the grant of such consent will normally depend on whether the place vacated can be filled by another student.'

By its contract with the Proprietors, the University reserves and pays for accommodation in the Guest Houses for the full thirty weeks of the university year. This guarantees the availability of accommodation which might not otherwise be available (particularly in the summer term).
The accommodation is, of course, paid for whether occupied by students or not (in the latter case at two-thirds the full rate). Unless the Guest House scheme is to run at a considerable loss (ten vacancies for one term would cost the University about £250) either the lodging fees must rise to a level sufficient to 'carry' vacancies or the above regulation is needed.

It must be emphasised, however, that this does not mean that it will never be possible to move out of a Guest House in the course of an academic year. The Lodging Officer will do all she can to help those wishing to move out to find replacements - the potential number of whom will increase every year. But there has to be some way of safeguarding the present 'financial balance' of the scheme.

CHAPLAINCY ARRANGEMENTS

Several people have expressed the view that university activities and societies have come to depend too much on the stimulus of well-known outside speakers and not enough on the participation of their members, and this term the Chaplaincy programme will concentrate on trying to encourage this participation. The chief event of the term will be a study conference at Falmer House over the first week-end in Lent, February 15-16th. It will begin at 5.00 p.m. on the Saturday and there will be sessions before and after supper. There will be a service for those who wish to attend it at 11.30 a.m. on Sunday, followed by two or three further sessions of the conference.
Several members of the faculty have agreed to participate either by giving papers or by taking part in the discussion.

The theme will be The Riddle of the New Testament. In this university, more than in most, questions concerning fundamental beliefs are raised in a radical way at a very early stage. Many people discover in this situation that their ideas about the Christian faith are very vague or that they have to be examined afresh in a new light. This conference is designed to provide the opportunity for a frank and open discussion of the significance of Jesus Christ in a slightly more systematic and leisurely way than can be attempted in a single meeting or even in a study group spread over a term. It should be emphasised that non-Christians as well as Christians are welcome to attend and that, while it is hoped that as many people as possible will make the effort to attend for the whole time, people are free to come only for part of the time. Special arrangements will be made for meals to be provided at Falmer House at reasonable charges during the week-end. Full details of the conference will be made available later in the term.

The one outside speaker this term will be Mr. John Wren-Lewis, who will be speaking on 'A Scientist Looks at Creation' at 5.00 p.m. on 2nd February.
Mr. Wren-Lewis is a research chemist who is also well-known as a writer and broadcaster of great originality on theological and philosophical themes.

Sunday Services at Falmer House will be held this term slightly less frequently than last term and will be linked to other events taking place on the same day. It is hoped to resume fortnightly services, followed by picnic lunches similar to those held last year, in the summer term.

D.T.J.
ARCHITECTURAL AWARD

The Royal Institute of British Architects and the South Eastern Society of Architects has awarded to Sir Basil Spence the Bronze Medal which they give once in three years for a building of exceptional merit, built in the society area (the counties of Kent, Surrey and Sussex). Sir Basil Spence has won this award with his design for Falmer House.

The presentation of this Bronze Medal is to take place in Falmer House at 2.30 p.m. on Saturday, 8th February, before an audience of invited members of the R.I.B.A. and the S.E.S.A. Any member of the University who would like to attend this ceremony will be welcome. The room in which the presentation will be made will be announced later; it depends on the size of the audience to be expected, and it would be of assistance if any member of the University intending to be present would notify Miss Philips in the Registrar's Office by 31st January.

ART EXHIBITION

The Arts Council have approved the Junior Common Room as suitable to stage Arts Council Exhibitions and have offered an exhibition of paintings by Malcolm Hughes, Michael Kidner, Michael Tyszok and Eric Brown ("Painting towards Environment") for three weeks in April 1964. The University Lectures and Exhibitions Committee has warmly accepted this offer and agreed to open the Exhibition to members of the public on Saturdays and Sundays during that period from 2.00 p.m. - 5.30 p.m.

END OF YEAR ARRANGEMENTS

Members of the University are asked not to make any arrangements for the last day of the session which could delay undergraduates from leaving the Guest Houses by noon.

UNION NEWS

Towards the end of last term we were considering ways and means of improving the Societies set-up, whereby a more co-ordinated and organised programme of events can result. To this end a Secretariat has been established which will arrange bookings, maintain a diary of events, organise adequate advertising and, working closely with the individual Society Secretary, try to prevent Society events clashing and try to promote a more balanced programme. Danus Skene is the new Societies' Secretary and, from the Societies Room (between the Music Room and the Debating Chamber) will operate the scheme. Obviously this requires considerable co-operation from everyone and, in particular, from each Society. Advising Danus Skene will be a member of Faculty, particularly for such Society meetings as might involve members of Faculty as speakers or as audience and, where necessary, he will assist when Society activities or group studies within a Society tie in with the academic programme.

It is hoped that every Sunday evening at Palmer House there will be some kind of social event - with records, singers, bands, rock groups, etc. - to provide an opportunity for dancing, talking, eating and drinking; watch out for further details. There will be a dance on 29th January, and in February there will be a major dance to celebrate the founding of the Federation of Brighton Students.

The Lecture Timetable Committee, in consultation with the Union, has agreed that the period from 5.45 p.m. onwards on Tuesdays should be set aside for Union General Meetings or other important Union Functions, to be held in the Large Physics Lecture Theatre.

Immediate business confronting the Union at the General Meeting will be the new Union Constitution, a draft of which is nearing completion; and next year's Rag activities. A motion, remaining from last term, concerning the political situation in Portugal, will also be debated.

Elections will be held this term for the Union Committee which will take up office at the beginning of the Summer Term. Further details of these most important elections will be posted later. Also, our Social Secretary, Angela Gale, has resigned, and her successor will have to be appointed as soon as possible.

Among other topics, three in particular we would mention are:

(1) Arts Festival. It is proposed to repeat last year's venture and plans must start now. The most probable time will be in June (after Finals). An overall organiser should be appointed this term to whom Societies and others should make suggestions for activities to be included in the Arts Festival Week.

(2) A New Universities Festival. Last term representatives from Keele, York, Norwich and ourselves met at Keele to consider a proposal for some kind of festival. The final form has yet to be decided but the provisional date and place fixed is the weekend of 8th May at Keele. Singers, painters, poets, talkers, actors, sportsmen and the like will have an opportunity to meet with and entertain students from the other New Universities. Further details will be given later.

(3) Freshers' Conference. Next year's Freshers' Conference is about to enter the planning stage. A Questionnaire was sent out last term to gather criticism of the last Conference and ideas for the next. The random selection of people questioned may not have included you - the very person with most criticisms and most ideas. If so, will you please let David Sheers know as soon as possible (evidence in writing, please !).
